Description

Welcome home to rediscover a life of learning. Lasell Village, sponsored by Lasell College, is home to an average of 225 residents in its independent living apartments. Lasell Village also provides supported living, short-term rehabilitation services and long-term skilled care, as well as in-home healthcare. This award-winning community invites residents to think of senior housing and retirement in a whole new way, by promoting an active, intellectually enriched lifestyle.

Life at Lasell Village reflects the interests and imagination of its residents. A focus on living and learning is the defining characteristic of the community, and one that makes it unique among retirement communities.

The presiding philosophy of education at Lasell Village is that learning is not a chore, a task or even a specified activity. It is, instead, a way of being—an approach to life through which residents pursue interests and engage in new experiences that enrich their lives.

Although it is one of a growing number of college-affiliated retirement communities, Lasell Village is the first to feature an individualized, and required, continuing education program for each resident. Each new resident of Lasell Village brings a unique and welcomed perspective.
