Description

Established in Greenwood, South Carolina in 1988, FUJIFILM Manufacturing U.S.A., Inc., is a wholly owned subsidiary of FUJIFILM Corporation.

Fujifilm South Carolina is the company's North American Manufacturing and Research and Development Headquarters. The 500 acre complex boasts four state-of-the-art manufacturing facilities for the production of QuickSnap recyclable cameras, color photographic paper, and digital printing plates for the Graphic Arts industry. Fujifilm South Carolina is also home of the Greenwood Research Laboratories and Fujifilm's largest distribution center in the world. Fujifilm South Carolina currently employs over 900 Associates, and has more than 2.5 million square feet of manufacturing space (more than 40 football fields) under roof. The total investment in the Greenwood, South Carolina, complex far exceeds $1.5 billion.

Fujifilm South Carolina is one of the company's global manufacturing hubs, and it plays a key role in the company's strategic vision, serving customers throughout the United States, Canada, and over 40 other countries worldwide. Fujifilm South Carolina upholds the company's proud tradition of superior quality in both our products and our customer service. All of our facilities are received ISO-9000 registration in recognition of our superior quality systems.

FUJIFILM Manufacturing U.S.A., Inc., is a committed corporate citizen in South Carolina and in Greenwood. Our company and our Associates are involved in many award winning civic and charitable activities to enhance the quality of life in our community and state.
